Every time we fill a prescription for what ails you, we contribute a penny for what ails him.

What ails him is drug abuse. It could kill him. At Revco we're deeply concerned about drug abuse, and we're putting our money where our concern is. For every prescription we fill, we contribute one cent to the fight against drug abuse. Chainwide, Revco fills more than eleven million prescriptions per year. So our total contribution this year should be over $110,000. As a legitimate dispenser of drugs in your community, we want drugs to cure, not kill. As concerned pharmacists, we urge you, as a responsible citizen, to join the fight against drug abuse.

"Remove Drunk Drivers" Says Anderson

Delegate Howard P. Anderson of Halifax, Democratic candidate for the Eighteenth Senatorial District seat, today came out strongly in favor of removing drunk drivers from the highways.

At the same time Anderson said he opposes parimutuel betting in Virginia as not being in the best interest of the state and its residents. Anderson said he believes parimutuel betting would "bring more problems than it would alleviate" and he does not feel the income from that source would be more than fifteen million dollars annually.

"I believe it would attract an element entirely foreign to our way of life," Anderson said, "and I would not be a party to that."

On the subject of drunk driving, Anderson said that if elected to the Senate, he will introduce a bill to lower from .15 to .10 the alcoholic level for drunk driving and to set the impaired driving at from .10 to .05. The level for impaired driving is now from .10 to .15.

Anderson has been on the House Courts of Justice Committee since 1958 and was co-patron on the implied consent bill when it was first enacted and established the .15 level for drunk driving. He said he favored .10 at the time but was unable to get the .10 out of committee.

In addition to a major portion of Campbell County, the 18th Senatorial District includes the counties of Appomattox, Buckingham, Charlotte, Prince Edward, Halifax and the City of South Boston.

Anderson has served in the House continuously since 1958 and his committee assignments inclues Counties, Cities and Towns, Agriculture and Auditing, of which he is chairman as well as the Courts of Justice Committee.

Long associated with the conservative wing of the Virginia Democratic Party, Anderson was a member of the study commission on technical education and a co-patron of the bill from which the Community College system emerged.

He has worked for economy in governmental operations and has long fought to reduce taxes on tobacco.

Anderson, who represents Halifax and South Bostin in the House, announced he would seek election to the Senate shortly after Senator James D. Hagood said he would not seek re-election.

DODSON'S FIRST ISSUE QUESTIONED

DEMONSTRATES LACK OF EXPERIENCE!

Following Is An Article Taken From

GAZETTE-VIRGINIAN, South Boston - October 14, 1971

odson, the Lynchburg Independent candidate for Senate, needs to tell us something.

e 2 in Tuesday's Gazette-Virginian, Bert said torial ad that he was "firmly opposed to any crease in real estate taxes in rural Virginia."

e 4 in the same day's paper, Bert said that if ers in the General Assembly last session when ature voted for a very controversial bill to give Board of Education power to sue and collect alities that did not put up enough money to support a standard set by the State Board of Education, have voted for that bill. Our Halifax County Howard Anderson, was one of only a few members the General Assembly voting against this raid on ds of the localities, and we warmly applaud rson for his stand.

E ASK BERT THIS:

tate Board of Education has the power through of mandamus to require the localities of the e up taxes to meet standards imposed arbitrarily by the State Board of Education, and if Bert opposes more taxes on real estate, as he says, uld he propose that the localities get the money? Must the local Boards of Supervisors, the City uld the local School Boards to reside in durance state taxes are the backbone and the marrow of es in Virginia. Real estate taxes not only pay r and the candlestick maker in the local schools, the school teacher, the school janitor and put e school buses.

Now, Bert might talk about a better distribution of state school funds to the localities, but he will never live long enough to see local real estate taxes abandoned as the prime source of local tax revenue and the prime support of the schools and everything else the locality buys and pays for.

Howard Anderson knows this, and he knows that most localities in Virginia are taxing their subjects to the limit to support public schools and to provide other governmental services. Howard Anderson is also against the state compelling the localities to raise local funds to meet standards the locality has absolutely no control over. Howard Anderson is against the State Board of Education using the capricious power the State Department of Welfare and Institutions now uses in compelling the localities to ante up for welfare out of local taxes, or having the state to withhold state ABC and sales tax funds from the localities.

Until Mr. Dodson explains just what it is he does want, we must assume that he is abysmally ignorant about state and local taxes, and that he sides with the state's liberal and leftist politicians in forcing state power over the localities through court action involved as plain as the hands before your face in that "little bill" Mr. Anderson voted against, and which he said he would have voted for.

Come again, Bert. This kind of talk won't get you many votes in South Boston and Halifax.
